MAXIMISE SIMPLICITY

We all have very busy lives. As mum to a little diva, plus a dog mama, a wife and a working professional, there's one thing I need my beauty products to be – time-efficient! Having a simple, short and effective routine that I know will still see results, is super important to me – especially if I'm to survive our morning craziness!

This busy lifestyle and need for product performance was top of mind when developing Optimals in the Oriflame lab – it may be a very simple 3-step skincare routine, but thanks to active technologies like our carefully selected O-BarrierRestore, you still get maximum results. I love the versatility of the Optimals Hydra Radiance Light Cream, which you can use both day and night – it's my new go-to moisturiser for instant skin hydration. And it leaves my face feeling soft and glowing!

Sometimes we all want things (and products!) to be simple – but that doesn't mean no results. It's all about maximising simplicity.
